General Comments
The reported clearance of 214 hectares of native vegetation falls in an area covered by a validated (CAR MT-5108907-DA70ADF2126B4A009AE45C67392FF627) in the names of Guilherme Ferraresi Soares de Camargo, André Salles Soares de Camargo, and the property has other 5 different CAR declarations falling in the area registered under the SNCI (1). The property Fazenda Jaçanã is one of the properties of the Vilela family business conglomerate. While the family is also active in sugar cane production in Araçatuba (SP) and cattle in Nova Lacerda (MT), this case relates to a soy expansion area. Originally from Araçatuba (SP), the Vilela family owns around 40,000 hectares of land in Mato Grosso (2). Fazenda Jaçanã was under dispute between Mozart Rossi Vilela and his daughter Monica Maria Lemos Vilela due to the division of 846 heads of the farm as part of the heritage of the deceased wife and mother, relatively (3). The other son, Casimiro José Avelar Vilela, owns farms in Aripuanã, Nova Maringá and Nova Lacerda. In 2016, he impetrated a repossession lawsuit against members of the Landless Workers Movement (MST) that occupied Fazenda Rodeio and Fazenda Maria (this last one in the name of Mozart Rossi Vilela), both in Nova Lacerda (4). Between 2007 and 2008, Mozart requested environmental licenses for Fazenda Silva and Fazenda São José (currently not in his name), in Nova Maringá (5, 6). Fazenda Jaçanã supplied soy to Cofco in 2017, Fiagril in 2016, and Bunge in 2015 (7). A linked property, Fazenda Santa Maria (Nova Lacerda - MT), directly supplied cattle to 1 slaughterhouse owned by JBS (Pontes e Lacerda - MT) between 2018-2020 (8).
